DOUGIE FREEDMAN

Good afternoon everyone and welcome to the final league game of our season. I'd like to extend that welcome to Paul Ince, Alex Rae, as well as the players, staff and supporters of Blackpool Football Club. I'd also like to welcome today's match sponsors Mercedes-Benz.

We believe we are in for a very exciting afternoon and I hope everyone enjoys it, gets behind the players and that we come away with the right result.

I believe that the fantastic support that you have been giving the players of late has got us into this position.

I felt that this was a fantastic challenge when I came to this club. We work to good old fashioned values, respect and we treat everyone in the right way. We ensure that everyone is working to the same standards.

This approach has not only helped us off the field, but on it too. I think that has been reflected in our run of results. I still think that there is more to come from the team, but we're certainly heading in the right direction.

Some of our staff may have found it difficult after a change of management style, but after learning how I like things to work they've come round and have been fantastic to work with. They have been open-minded and have bought into my style of leadership.

I'm very proud that the same group of players that we inherited when we first came through the door have turned the club's fortunes around. That comes down to a lot of hard work on the training ground and good coaching.

I also believe it's my job to educate the fans, and hopefully I've done that through our style of play and tactical awareness.

I hope that everyone understands that I enjoy watching players progress into the first team. It gives me tremendous pride and fulfilment to see young players on the pitch wearing the Bolton Wanderers shirt. Our under-18s reached the quarter-finals of the FA Youth Cup this season and our development squad have been doing very well of late, so the future certainly looks good.

Our young players understand that there is light for them at the end of the tunnel. If they are good enough they will play for the first team, it's as simple as that. I like to give opportunities to people, not just in football, but in life.

I'd also like to take this opportunity to thank Kevin Davies for his efforts and professionalism since I arrived. I know what it is like to be affiliated to a club for such a long period of time, but sometimes you have to be ready to move on in football. Kevin will forever be a club legend here and will depart after this season with everyone's best wishes.

As always, there are no easy games in this league, and we know we will have to be at our very best against today's opponents. Paul has done a tremendous job in securing Championship football for the club for next season. I wish them all the very best for the future.

I feel we are working together as a club, and that takes everyone's efforts. With your support and belief in our players, nothing is impossible.

KEVIN DAVIES

Good afternoon everyone and welcome to the Reebok Stadium.

The final day of the regular league season is here and a win today will take this club into the play-offs and hopefully back into the Premier League.

The boys have been on a fantastic run and have done really well to get into this position. We thoroughly deserve to be here given the work we've put in over the course of the season.

There's a positive and focussed feeling in and around the dressing room at the moment. We've developed a real spirit over the last six or so months and I think that has certainly helped us both on and off the pitch.

Having spent ten years at the Reebok, with five years as club captain, today could potentially be the last chance I get to say goodbye to the club and fans.

High points for me would be qualifying for Europe twice, scoring in Munich and winning the quarter-final of the FA Cup at Birmingham.

The club were fantastic in their support for me when I played for England in October 2010 and also when I launched my charity, KiDs of Bolton. It was also nice to win the 'Player Your Mum Most Fancies' award at the recent Junior Whites End of Season Party. I think it was something like my seventh consecutive award! These are just some of the great memories I will take with me.

Since the club announced that I wouldn't be renewing my contract for next season I've had some amazing support from the fans and it has been very overwhelming. Driving past the Reebok makes me proud to have been part of the achievements of the last ten years.

As things stand, I am unsure where I will be playing my football next season and whether I will still be living in the Bolton area.

As ever, please get behind the boys today in the final push to secure a play-off position. They are a fantastic group of lads and I wish them all the best for the future. Hopefully we can send you all home happy this afternoon.

Enjoy the game.

POKER NIGHT AT THE REEBOK

Stuart Holden, Craig Davies, Keith Andrews, Joe Riley, David Wheeler and Rob Lainton were all in attendance at the club's recent 188BET poker night.

Wanderers fans and players joined together putting their cards on the table for the 188BET charity poker event, raising funds for the club's charity campaign Hearts and Goals.

Head of Corporate Sales Adrian Blackburn said: "It was a fantastic night, and there was a great turn out from the fans. Everybody was having a laugh and joke and the players really got involved, whether they were good at poker or not!

"The Hearts and Goals campaign is a great charity so it was pleasing to see the event turn out to be such a success."

Wanderers defender David Wheeler added: "It was all good fun and really competitive. I went out quite early like a lot of the lads but Keith Andrews managed to stay in until quite near the end. We had good fun and it was for a great cause"

MAY HALF-TERM FOOTBALL CAMP

Bolton Wanderers will be hosting a football camp at the end of the month for girls and boys aged 6-12 for just £10 per day.

The football camp will be at Ladybridge High School the week commencing 28th May, and will allow the kids the chance to improve their passing, shooting, dribbling and goalkeeping skills.

All staff are FA qualified and first aid trained, and your child will need to bring their own packed lunch plus sportswear including waterproof clothing, shin pads and trainers.

To book please visit www.bwot.org.uk or call 01204 673790

SUMMER REVAMP

The upper tier of the North Stand at the Reebok Stadium is set to be revamped this summer to form part of the new Family Stand sponsored by Bartercard - and the club wants your input!

The process will see the stairwell and concourse areas of stand given a fresh look with quotes and anecdotes, complete with photographs, from Bolton Wanderers supporters young and old to adorn the walls.

What is your earliest memory of watching Wanderers? Which Bolton player did you idolise growing up? When did you see your first game?

To submit your entry for part of our new-look stand, in no more than 50 words we want you to send your unique recollections, stories and thoughts on all things Wanderers to familystand@bwfc.co.uk. A selection of the best will then feature in the new designs in the stairwells and concourses.

BOLTON WANDERERS ARE CURRENTLY LOOKING FOR SUPPORTER MEMBERS TO BE PART OF TWO NEW FOCUS GROUPS.

Both the disabled supporter and the home matchday experience and attendance working groups will gather at the Reebok Stadium to share their thoughts on a range of plans, with the opportunity to propose and originate ideas.

Head of Public Sales Richard Gough said: "We have always benefited from our feedback focus groups, with a number of ideas and issues developing from those meetings, such as FanZone and elements of our ticketing policy.

"These two groups allow us to keep our ideas fresh with direct input from the fans about their off-field matchday experience."

Any Wanderers supporter interested in taking part in either of the groups, or requiring more information, should contact customerservices@bwfc.co.uk.

WHEATS READY FOR RETURN

David Wheater admits this season has gone slow after a long spell on the Reebok sidelines through injury – but the pace is picking up now he is back involved playing the game he loves.

The 26-year-old ruptured his anterior cruciate ligament against West Brom 12 months ago and made his return to first team duty in the 4-1 win over Hull City in February as a second half substitute.

Now keen to get back in the heart of the Bolton backline, the centre half spoke in depth to the matchday programme ahead of today's clash against Blackpool.

ONE-ON-ONE

HOW DIFFICULT WAS IT TO LEAVE HIS HOME TOWN CLUB? WHAT HAVE THE LAST SIX MONTHS BEEN LIKE? IS HE REALLY A POKER SHARK? AND IS IT TRUE HE WAS A PROLIFIC GOAL SCORER?

WE PUT YOUR QUESTIONS TO...

DAVID WHEATER

Middlesbrough through and through, David Wheeler made his senior bow at the age of just 17 for his hometown club, but after spending 16 years on Teesside, the centre half made the decision to swap the Riverside for Reebok Stadium.

Wheater, a one-time flying winger with a habit to find the back of the opposition net, made his long awaiting come back to first team duty in February after suffering a major injury set-back against West Brom at the end of the last season.

Twelve months on, Wanderers' number 31 speaks to the official matchday programme and is focused on playing on a regular basis next season for the Whites.

How are you now on the injury front?

Paul Campbell via Facebook

I am doing well and feeling a lot stronger. Some players find it hard when they are out injured for a long time but I stayed positive and focused on getting back to full fitness.

I ended up focusing all my energy on getting back on the pitch and I made my return in February against Hull City and it was a relief to get back out there with the lads.

When I was back fit and training it made life easier and I knew from there I was not far away. Hopefully I will be a regular next season but I would love to be involved today or if the season is extended after this afternoon's game.

Next season I want to be in the matchday squad on a weekly basis playing week in week out.

What is difficult to leave your hometown club Middlesbrough after having spent all your career and life there?

@haggy91 via Twitter

It was a big decision to join Bolton Wanderers and move to the North West from Middlesbrough. Tony Mowbray, my manager at Boro was very supportive towards me at the time.

He had a similar experience when he was a player. Like myself, he was from Middlesbrough and made the move to join Celtic, but it was a move he believed would benefit his career.

It was the right move, in any job people will come to a point where they are ready to move on and I was the same.

I had the opportunity to leave Middlesbrough a few times but it wasn't the right move. When Bolton came in for me, it seemed like the right time to go and it was an opportunity I didn't want to turn down.

I have always dreamed of playing for Bolton because they are my hometown club, how did it feel playing for your home team?

@ChrisWilding89 via Twitter

It was brilliant, an experience I can't describe. I used to watch Middlesbrough when I was a lad and I never thought I would go on and play for the club, it was a proud moment when I made my debut.

I will never forget playing for Middlesbrough, especially because the fans were so good to me. It was hard to leave but it was the right time to go and I made the right decision joining Bolton and I am enjoying life here.

At the time, Bolton were in the Premier League and we aim to get back up sooner rather than later.

Is it true that you were a bit of a prolific goalscorer when you first started playing football and why did you change to become a defender?

Chloe Briscoe via Facebook

When I was 6-years-old I used to play football in my local leisure centre and the coach told me I was a bit better than the rest of the lads because I was scoring ten goals every session.

They recommended that I joined a local side, so I signed for Teesside Athletic. After about ten minutes into my first session, I was moved up to play with the older age group and it progressed from there.

I started playing as a winger and I joined Middlesbrough when I was seven but I didn't play centre back straight away.

I was on the bench for one of the U10 games and our centre half went off injured, so the manager asked me if I wanted to go on and play in defence so I did.

The manager asked me to play in defence ever since, there is less running as a defender so I didn't mind switching from a winger.

What is your proudest moment so far?

Andy Royle via Facebook

One of my proudest moments was winning the FA Youth Cup with Middlesbrough. We had a great team which included the likes of Adam Johnson but it was even more special because we are all friends and grew up with each other.

I have played the majority of my career in the Premier League; it is the best league in the world so to say I have played at that level on a consistent basis is great.

Obviously I want to get back up to the Premier League with Bolton and like I have said already, hopefully we will be soon.

Do you still harbour hopes of playing for England?

Chris Rudd via email

I was called up by Fabio Capello in 2008 to the England squad and it was a great experience to be involved even though I didn't play.

I trained with the likes of David Beckham and Rio Ferdinand and I remember watching them both play at the 2002 World Cup.

After the World Cup, I wanted to be like Rio, he was unbelievable and one of the best defenders at the tournament.

Against Argentina in the group stages, Rio was immense and it is still one of the best performances I have ever seen from a defender.

How are your poker skills?

@tommyhalls via Twitter

Ha-ha, they are better but I still have no idea how to play. The lads that went to the poker night a couple of weeks ago had a good time, but I was the first one to get knocked out, I didn't know what to do.

I didn't even last ten minutes, I went all in hoping for the best, but it didn't work. I think I will stick to playing football from now on.

What do you think about the introduction of goal line technology?

@simmo123 via Twitter

I think it is a good move for the sport. A lot of decisions go the wrong way and we have the technology to resolve the problem, so we should be using goal line technology.

It will be more exciting, if there is a hawk eye on the big screen, the fans will be waiting in anticipation to see what the decision is.

I have heard you have a reputation of producing your own YouTube videos?

Eddie Curwen via Facebook

Yes, this is true. At college when I was in the youth team at Boro I had the option of doing stupid videos or do work so I chose the stupid stuff.

At the time I was playing so much football and that is all I really wanted to do. I wasn't really interested in doing work.

I don't regret making those videos- I just wish I did a better job because some of them were rubbish such as there is one where I am head butting ice.

WANDERERS V MIDDLESBROUGH

Second half goals from Chris Eagles and Marvin Sordell sealed a 2-1 win for Bolton Wanderers against Middlesbrough at the Reebok Stadium.

The win was Bolton's eighth home league win on the spin and Wanderers remain unbeaten in the Championship at home in 2013.

After a quiet first half, the game sprung to life when Eagles' cross evaded Jason Steele to hand Bolton the lead.

Visitors Middlesbrough equalised shortly after with Kieron Dyer heading home from close range, but Sordell put the Whites back in front from the penalty spot after Chung-Yong Lee was tripped.

Boro had to play the final 25 minutes with ten men after experienced centre half Jonathan Woodgate was dismissed for the second bookable offence.

MANAGER'S REACTION:

“It was a very good, spirited performance. That's what we've got on our side at the moment. We've got the spirit and commitment and that's something you can't buy, that has to be developed.”

CARDIFF CITY V WANDERERS

Chris Eagles' eleventh goal of the campaign secured Wanderers a hard fought point at champions Cardiff City.

The Whites led when Eagles calmly dispatched the ball past David Marshall in the 18th minute but the Bluebirds rescued a point midway through the second half when substitute Craig Noone hit the back of the net with a curling free-kick to ensure the score finished 1-1.

Wanderers will now face today's opponents Blackpool at the Reebok Stadium in their final game of the season in high spirits after their courageous performance against City, who boast the best home form in the npower Championship.

MANAGER'S REACTION:

“We prepared correctly, we knew before the game Cardiff possessed a lot of different qualities and were capable of putting in crosses from the wide areas.

It was a wonderful goal by Chris Eagles. We analysed that before the game, we looked to work in the wider areas and cut the ball back and that is what happened for the goal.

Fair play to Cardiff City, they made a couple of good substitutions at the right time and they had an impact.”

THE WANDERERS FREESTYLERS WOODY AND KLEINY

Wanderers fans may have noticed a new addition to the club at half time in the recent home game against Wolves. We are proud to announce, in addition to the regular club mascot Lofty the Lion, that we now have the new Wanderers Freestylers Woody and Kleiny. They are the official football freestylers for the club and the only duo tied to a professional club in the world!

The lads have a CV of shows from all around the world, for promotions, exhibitions, corporate events, adverts and TV film work, including performing on Britain's got Talent – Simon Cowell even likened them as football freestyles' answer to Ant and Dec!

Both Woody and Kleiny are the UEFA training grounds skill experts, where they break down the amazing skills which top professionals in the Champions League create and show you exactly how to do them, as well as creative skills from freestyling which can help you with your touch and coordination. They are presenting a new channel on YouTube which launched just four weeks ago called four3three on youtube.com/football with over 60,000 already subscribed.

The boys will be involved with the club in a number of ways. Firstly on matchdays, where from time to time they will give displays of their freestyle skills to entertain the crowds either before the match or at half time. They will not only show their array of skills, they will also interact with the crowd. There will be the opportunity for children to come out onto the hallowed turf and have a bit of fun with the lads!

Would you like to meet a BWFC player at the training ground? Would you like to have the opportunity of popping over to the Reebok and playing a game of FIFA against Stuart Holden and many other amazing opportunities? The Wanderers freestylers are housed within the BWFC Institute of Sport and provide lots of add-ons to courses which have been running for many years. They will be involved in special coaching clinics surrounding the techniques to help you become a better technical football player. With football freestyle coaching clinics within match-day packages, team visits and development camps abroad.

There will be plenty of opportunities for young aspiring footballers to learn the secrets behind becoming a master with the ball.

The boys are looking forward to seeing you around and hope you enjoy everything that they are adding to the club. Feel free to follow them on twitter and ask them any questions.

I'VE LOVED MY TIME HERE

After a successful loan spell at Wanderers, Craig Dawson believes he is returning to parent club West Bromwich Albion a better player.

The 22-year-old featured in the final game of his temporary three-month stint with Bolton in last weekend's 1-1 draw with champions Cardiff City.

And after playing an integral role in the Whites' rear-guard for a total of 16 games, in which he scored four goals, Dawson leaves the Reebok Stadium with the club well positioned to secure a Play-Off berth.

Ahead of today's game against Blackpool, one which Dawson will be taking keen interest in, the England U21 international spoke of his admiration for the club and thoroughly enjoyed his time back in the North West.

"It's been a great learning curve and I'm extremely grateful to the manager for bringing me in and giving me this opportunity," said the former Rochdale man.

"I've loved my time at the club. When you're playing regular football and winning games you can't help but enjoy it.

"I've been made to feel extremely welcome by all the staff and players, and especially the fans.

"From my first game I feel like the fans really looked after me. They really got behind me and that was great to see.

"I feel like I have developed a lot here. Hopefully I can take that back to West Brom and continue to become a better a player.

"It's a little disappointing that I'm unable to see the season out with Bolton, but I knew the terms of my loan before I came here.

"Hopefully the boys can continue our excellent run of form this afternoon at the Reebok Stadium and make it nine wins on the bounce."

Wanderers 1 - 0 Stoke City

Wanderers: Branagan, Brown, Burke, Lee, Seagraves, Stubbs, Kelly, McAteer, Darby, McGinlay, Patterson.
Subs: Green for Darby, Winstanley.

Wanderers made a late surge to gain automatic promotion with the tension mounting ahead of their game against champions Stoke City.

Boss Bruce Rioch assembled a strong squad in his first season at the Whites, but it took until Christmas for his side to click into gear.

Finding form at the right time, Wanderers lost only twice in the league since the turn of the year, giving Rioch's men a glorious chance to win promotion with two games remaining.

Stoke City were the visitors to Burnden Park 20-years ago today with a bumper crowd right behind the hosts, the best crowd at Bolton Wanderers since 1980.

One point adrift of Stoke's rivals Port Vale in the league standings, Whites man Julian Darby hammered Wanderers' winner the Potters.

Bolton born and bred, Darby was included in Rioch's starting eleven due to the injury of Andy Walker and grabbed the winning goal in the seventh minute.

Victory over Preston North End the following weekend, courtesy of a John McGinlay penalty sealed Bolton's promotion to the First Division after a ten year absence.

WANDERERS

Tom Youngs was once again the match-winner for Wanderers' second string, as they overcame Crystal Palace at Selhurst Park on Monday evening.

Youngs, a scorer in a 2-1 win at Reading just seven days earlier, netted the only goal of the game, lashing home sub Aaron Knight's clever touch on 85 minutes.

A young Wanderers side signalled their attacking intent in the early throes of the game, weaving pretty patterns in the midfield areas.

However, it was the hosts who mustered the first meaningful attempt of the game, with Jay Lynch palming away Jason Banton's powerful deflected effort from distance wide of the post.

Youngs, who was lively throughout, combined with Joe McKee midway through the half but his eventual shot from deflected harmlessly wide.

Palace did test Lynch again before the interval, though the Bolton stopper stood up well, particularly when parrying another Banton effort onto the woodwork.

After the interval Wanderers began to make significant inroads into the Palace rear-guard, as Jack Sampson's low drive from distance was well held by keeper Ross Fitzsimons.

Banton continued to threaten for Palace, twice coming close with efforts from outside the area, however I was to be Jamie Fullarton's side who were to net the all-important goal with just five minutes of play left.

Sampson's centre from the left flank was chested down by sub Knight, with an unmarked Youngs converting beyond the goalkeeper from close range.

The win sealed Bolton's fourth in their last seven outings as their impressive form in 2013 continues.

Bolton faced Newcastle United last night in their final league fixture, please check the club's official website for the final score.

Wanderers' U18s played Crystal Palace in their final game of the season, drawing 3-3 in the Premier League Elite Group.

JORDAN HENDRIE

HENDRIE FOLLOWING IN HIS FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS

WORDS: EMMA NORRIS

Having grown up watching his own father enjoy a successful football career, Wanderers' first year scholar Jordan Hendrie believes that he could not be in a better position to secure his own professional contract next season.

As the son of former Bradford City and Middlesbrough striker John Hendrie, the youngster is confident that he has had enough first hand experience to follow in his father's footsteps.

"I've been brought up with football really," he explained. "My dad was playing for Barnsley when I was born, so we used to go watching him regularly.

"My older brother Luke is at Manchester United as a first year pro and my dad's cousin is Lee Hendrie. We've got a real football family - not many boys have got that kind of help so I'm really lucky."

After being heavily exposed to the beautiful game from a young age, Hendrie was determined to carry on his father's footballing legacy following his retirement in 1999.

Keen to play on a regular basis, the Leeds-born defender joined his local side Menston Hotshots at the age of six before being picked up by his childhood club Bradford City just three years later.

A dream come true for the lifelong Bantams supporter, the full-back enjoyed six successful years there before being scouted by Bolton.

Despite openly admitting that the decision to leave Valley Parade was a difficult one given his allegiance to the club, he is adamant that it is one which has ultimately helped him to become the player he is today.

"I just thought it was the right time to move on when Bolton came in," he admitted. "I joined in the summer, but I only had a few months to prove to them what I could do as decisions about scholarships were being made in the November.

"When I actually got given one, I was shocked but I was so pleased. I'd been asked to come to a meeting with my parents and I thought it was just a chat about how I'd been doing, but they offered it to me there and then - it's definitely been the highlight of my career so far."

Despite suffering a broken foot last summer, Hendrie has enjoyed a successful campaign with the club's high-flying Under 18s and is currently a permanent fixture in the Baby Whites' back four.

Alongside his exploits for Bolton, the 17-year-old has also been making a name for himself on the international scene having been called up to represent Scotland at Under 16 level shortly after making the move to the Reebok.

His cap against Belgium was a proud moment for the defender, but Hendrie revealed that his main focus will remain giving his all for the Wanderers.

"It was great to get called up, but at the end of the day my priorities lie with Bolton - international football is just a bonus really."

He added: "I'm just determined to get that professional contract. It's not going to be easy, but I'm just going to work hard over the summer to keep my fitness up and do the best that I can next year."

Mark Davies scored an 89th minute equaliser as Bolton bravely fought back to claim a 2-2 draw against Blackpool the last time the two sides met at the Reebok Stadium in November 2010.

Goals from defender Ian Evatt and Luke Varney gave the Seagulls a two goal advantage, but Martin Petrov pulled one back with a delightful volley and Mark Davies rescued the home side with a calm side-foot finish a minute from time.

OPPOSITION SUMMARY

It has been a season of transition for Blackpool with the Seaside having three different managers in 2012/13.

Narrowly missing out on promotion to the Premier League last season, losing to West Ham United in the Play-Off final, Blackpool began the season well and looked set for another charge towards the top flight.

However, with Ian Holloway departing in October to join Crystal Palace after over three years in charge, Michael Appleton was announced as Holloway's successor.

Appleton's tenure at Bloomfield Road lasted just 12 games with the 37-year-old tempted by the offer to join Blackburn Rovers.

Appleton's exit allowed Paul Ince to become the club's third manager of the season in February and despite a 6-1 defeat at Brighton two weeks ago, the former Man United midfielder has guided the Seaside to safety last weekend with a 2-1 win at home to Derby County.

SPY IN THE CAMP

William Watt, a sports reporter at the Blackpool Gazette, was delighted with the way the Seaside started the season but he feels that the managerial changes ultimately cost the club a top six finish.

"It has been a crazy season for Blackpool. Obviously we started with Ian Holloway and we were looking at nothing but promotion back to the Premier League and in all honesty, we should have gone up last year against West Ham. After four or five weeks this season we were looking very good but Holloway seemed to lose faith and obviously he left to join Crystal Palace. Then of course we had Michael Appleton who only lasted 57 days before going to Blackburn and then Paul Ince came in. The uncertainty has taken its toll on the club this season but Ince came in at a difficult time and he has done a good job."

"Ince came in and he added a bit of belief to the squad and after recent results we are safe in the league. It looked at point that the Bolton match would be a play-off decider but after Holloway left and with Bolton's poor start it did turn out that way.

"Bolton have always been a side that I thought would do well after coming down. The fact that Bolton have loaned out players like Stuart Holden shows they have good quality in their side and I would certainly fancy them to return to the Premier League. Blackpool have nothing to play for and Bolton are chasing promotion so they might have to get a positive result but I am expecting it to be a close game, possibly 1-1 or 2-2."

THE MANAGER PAUL INCE

Born: London, England

Paul Ince joined his son Tom at Blackpool in February after two years out of management. The 45-year-old played for the likes of Manchester United, Liverpool and Inter Milan in a highly successful career, which also saw Ince win 53 caps for England.

With his playing career coming to an end at Macclesfield Town, Ince started his managerial career with the Silkmen before taking over at MK Dons, Blackburn Rovers and Notts County.

Name: Julian Darby

Date of birth: 3rd October 1967

Place of birth: Farnworth

Height: 6ft 0 inches (1.83m)

Position: Midfielder

Time at BWFC: 1986-1993

BWFC appearances: 346

BWFC goals: 52

BWFC magic moment: Scoring when

Bolton eased to a 4-1 victory over

Torquay United in the Associate

Members Cup final in 1989.

THEN:

Darby devoted half of his career to Bolton Wanderers, accumulating 270 league appearances in seven years.

The former midfielder found the net on 52 occasions in all competitions during his stint with the Whites. Undoubtedly his most important goal came in the Associate Members Cup final – now known as the Johnstone's Paint Trophy – to aid the club in sealing a resounding 4-1 win over Torquay United in 1989.

Following his period at Bolton, Darby made four permanent moves – none of which lasted more than three years. In eight years the Lancashire-born Darby represented Coventry City, West Brom, Preston North End, Rotherham United (on loan) and Carlisle United.

After hanging up his boots in his mid-30s, he went into coaching – most notably assisting Scottish manager Billy Davies.

He acted as the first team coach under Davies at Preston, Derby and Nottingham Forest before taking the role of coaching the U16s at Wanderers in 2012. He was assistant to Jimmy Phillips during his short spell as caretaker manager at the Whites.

NOW:

Darby is now back at Nottingham Forest as first team coach under Davies yet again, after the pair originally departed the club in 2011.

Darby's first game back in the dugout at the City Ground was coincidentally against Bolton in February.

Fact: His seven-year stint at Bolton brought 52 goals, while the following eight years in his playing career drew 11 goals in all competitions.

THEY NOW?

THEN:

Seagraves began his footballing tale at Liverpool in 1983. Unfortunately, the Liverpoolian failed to break into the senior side. The former defender never recorded any league appearances for Liverpool and only represented the Reds on two occasions.

After four years with Liverpool, Seagraves left in search of regular football when he signed for Manchester City, with the Blues paying £100,000 for his services.

After aiding City in getting promoted to the First Division, injuries saw him never reclaim his right-back berth. This prompted a move across the North West to Bolton in 1990.

It was at Bolton where Seagraves enjoyed his most productive spell, spending five years at the club and making 195 appearances. The 46-year-old helped the Whites to the Football League Cup final in 1995, but Wanderers were defeated 2-1 by Seagraves' former club Liverpool in the last round.

A stint at Swindon Town, followed by a short time in non-league football, rounded off Seagraves' playing career before he moved into coaching.

Seagraves coached under Paul Jewell at Wigan Athletic and Derby County.

Fact: Seagraves first forged his relationship with Jewell when the pair both played in Liverpool's youth team.

Name: Mark Seagraves

Date of birth: 22nd October 1966

Place of birth: Bootle

Height: 6ft inches (1.83m)

Position: Defender

Time at BWFC: 1990-1995

BWFC appearances: 195

BWFC goals: 9

BWFC magic moment: Being an integral part of the Wanderers side that fought its way to the Football League Cup final in his last season at the club.

NOW:

Seagraves is working as a scout at Ipswich Town after maintaining his strong link with Jewell by joining him there in 2011.

Despite Jewell's departure earlier this season, Seagraves has continued to work under current boss Mick McCarthy.

Fact: Seagraves first forged his relationship with Jewell when the pair both played in Liverpool's youth team.

MUAMBA MAKES GOLDEN DRAW

Fabrice Muamba returned to the Reebok Stadium for our last home against Middlesbrough to make the half-time Golden Gamble draw.

The 25-year-old was accompanied by the paramedics who were with him in the Fanzone earlier in the day, teaching lifesaving skills to supporters.
